Third Party Privacy Notice

4.4 Where applicable, for our marketing materials such as our flyers, corporate videos or customer review videos

i. What does this purpose entail?

You may be asked to participate in our marketing materials, for example in an interview on your experience in using our products. We may use such interviews or recordings for our corporate videos or as standalone customer videos. These materials may be used during events or for publishing on our corporate websites. When you agree to participate, we will keep certain contact details in case we need to contact you in relation to your participation.

ii. On what lawful basis do we process your personal data?

Your participation in any marketing materials is based on your consent. A separate agreement will be made with you for this purpose, detailing your rights in relation to the use of your personal data, and further explaining how the marketing materials will be used and whether any other lawful basis applies in the specific situation.

iii. Which personal data do we process for this purpose?

For this purpose, we process your name, job title, email address, telephone number and company details, as well as the recordings made as per the agreement.

4.5 For organisational analysis, management reporting, acquisition and divestitures and for the execution of business processes and internal management

i. What does this purpose entail?

If you are doing business with us, then we may process your personal data in the preparation and performance of management reporting and analysis using aggregated personal data. We may also conduct customer, supplier and business partner surveys to learn more about your views and opinions as part of the reporting process. Additionally, your personal data may be processed in the context of mergers, acquisitions and divestitures, and in order to manage such transactions.

We may process your personal data in the general performance and internal administration of our business. Furthermore, your personal data may be used when we conduct audits and investigations to comply with applicable legal obligations and/or Spectris' internal policies, implement business controls, and for managing our customer, supplier and business partner database.

When you are doing business with us, we also process your personal data for finance and accounting, archiving and insurance purposes, legal and business accounting and in the context of dispute resolution.

ii. On what lawful basis do we process your personal data?

We process your personal data in order to satisfy our legitimate interest in operating the day-to-day business of Spectris and to develop and implement plans for strategic growth.

iii. Which personal data do we process for this purpose?

Third Party Privacy Notice

For this purpose, we may process your contact details, your response to our surveys, data stored on Spectris' IT systems, data generated during the performance of your agreement with Spectris and your correspondence with us.

4.6 To comply with the law

i. What does this purpose entail?

If you are doing business with us, then Spectris processes your personal data to comply with laws and regulations (such as tax and business conduct-related and due diligence obligations including know your customer requirements) and this may involve disclosing your personal data to government or other supervisory authorities.

ii. On what lawful basis do we process your personal data?

We process your personal data to comply with any legal or regulatory obligations to which we may be subject.

iii. Which personal data do we process for this purpose?

For this purpose, we process your contact details, such as your address and email address, personal details, such as your name, payment information, transaction history, and your chamber of commerce and tax details, and any other information requested by the relevant government or supervisory authority. Information regarding the processing of personal data as part of our due diligence process is provided in our Third Party Due Diligence Privacy Notice (available on the Spectris Website).

4.7 To protect health, safety, security and to ensure integrity

i. What does this purpose entail?

Where you are invited to Spectris' premises, your personal data is processed in order to safeguard our employees, customers, suppliers and business partners as well as their assets. The owners of our building have a visitor registration process in place (for which they are the controller). In addition we reserve the right to authenticate your access rights to our premises and may screen your personal data against publicly available government and/or law enforcement agency sanctions lists.

ii. On what lawful basis do we process your personal data?

We process your personal data in line with our legitimate interest in safeguarding the health and safety of others, as well as in authenticating third party status and access rights whilst on our premises.

iii. Which personal data do we process for this purpose?

For this purpose, we may process your name and email address. Information regarding the processing of personal data as part of our due diligence process is provided in our Third Party Due Diligence Privacy Notice (available on the Spectris Website).

Third Party Privacy Notice

5. FOR HOW LONG DO WE RETAIN YOUR PERSONAL DATA?

We will retain your personal data for as long as necessary for the purposes set out above or as communicated to you at the time of collecting your personal data. More in particular:

Data	Purpose	Retention
IP Address & time stamp of visit	To deliver Website’s functionalities and for its technical and functional management (troubleshooting) (4.2) & for security purposes (4.3)	30 days

For any other personal data processed, the criteria we use to determine data retention periods include the following:

- Retention in case of queries: we may retain your personal data for a reasonable period after you have enquired about our company, in case of follow up queries from you.
- Retention in accordance with legal and regulatory requirements: we will consider whether we need to retain your personal data after the period of retention in case of queries (above) due to legal or regulatory requirements which they may be subject to. Some or all of these criteria may be relevant to retention of your personal data collected from you in connection with our company and/or your use of our Website.
- Retention permitted under applicable law: we will continue to retain your personal data where necessary to provide our services to you and the retention of such personal data is necessary for pursuing our legitimate interests or where it is necessary for public interest purposes.

6. COOKIES

We also collect information through the use of cookies. Cookies are small files of information which save and retrieve information about your visit to our Website – for instance, your internet service provider’s domain name, pages you accessed and when. We may process data we collect to give you a more seamless, consistent and personalised experience such as providing you with personalised recommendations based on your use of the Website.

Read more about how we use cookies and how you can disable them in our Cookie Notice, which can be found here.

7. WHO HAS ACCESS TO YOUR PERSONAL DATA?

7.1 Access to your personal data within Spectris

Your personal data will be available within Spectris to only those who need access to the data and only to the extent necessary to meet the purposes specified in section 4 “For which purposes do we process your personal data?” (above). We will take appropriate measures to ensure that your personal data is appropriately safeguarded.

Third Party Privacy Notice

We may also share your personal data with our affiliates within the Spectris group of companies. We may exchange your data for administrative purposes and so that we can have a complete overview of your contacts and contracts with the Spectris group. Where our affiliates send you information in relation to events, products, services or solutions that may be of interest to you, such disclosures will be pursuant to your consent (where required, in accordance with applicable laws).

7.2 Access to your personal data by third parties

The following third parties have access to your personal data, where relevant:

- Banks
- Insurance companies
- IT suppliers, including website administrators and Google, Inc (see below)
- Accountants and forensic specialists
- Governmental and regulatory bodies and other third parties to whom we must disclose information under applicable law, such as to comply with a court order or a request from a regulator or similar legal process, or otherwise where necessary to comply with a legal obligation or for the administration of justice
- Third parties concerned or their professional advisers, in the event of a merger, acquisition or any form of sale of some or all of our assets.

Where third parties are given access to your personal data, Spectris will take the required contractual, technical and organisational measures. If your personal data is transferred to a recipient in a country outside the European Economic Area that does not provide an adequate level of protection for personal data, we will provide for appropriate safeguards, for example conclude a contract encompassing the standard data protection clauses adopted by the European Commission with the relevant third party. A copy of such contract or more information about the appropriate safeguards taken to enable the transfer of personal data, can be obtained upon request via data.protection@spectris.com.

This Website uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. ("Google"). Google Analytics uses cookies (text files placed on your computer) to help the website operators analyse how users use the site. The information generated by the cookie about your use of the Website (including your IP address) will be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating your use of the Website, compiling reports on website activity for website operators and providing other services relating to website activity and internet usage. Google may also transfer this information to third parties where required to do so by law, or where such third parties process the information on Google's behalf. By using this Website, you consent to the processing of data about you by Google in the manner and for the purposes set out above, unless you disable the cookies through our Privacy Preference Center. For more details on what information Google collects and why it does so, Google's Privacy Policy is available here. To understand how Google uses cookies, please click here.

Third Party Privacy Notice

7.3 Personal data obtained from third parties

We work closely with third parties (including business partners, sub-contractors in technical, payment and delivery services, advertising networks, analytics and search information providers) and may receive personal data about you from them. Such data obtained from third parties will be kept in accordance with the same duty of care as described in this Privacy Notice, and with any additional restrictions imposed by the third party that shared your personal data.

8. HOW IS YOUR PERSONAL DATA SECURED?

Spectris has taken adequate safeguards to protect the confidentiality, integrity, availability and security of your personal data. We regularly review our technical configurations and systems to enhance our information and cyber security. We have implemented appropriate technical, physical and organisational measures to protect systems that hold and process your personal data against accidental or unlawful destruction, accidental loss, damage, alteration, unauthorised disclosure or access and against all other forms of unlawful processing.

9. LINKS TO OTHER WEBSITES

Our Online Channels may contain links to other websites of interest. However, once you have used these links to leave our site, you should note that we do not have any control over the other websites. Therefore, we cannot be responsible for the protection and privacy of any information that you provide while visiting such sites and such sites are not governed by this Privacy Notice. You should exercise caution and look at the privacy notice applicable to the website in question.

10. YOUR RIGHTS

You have a number of rights under applicable data protection law in respect of our processing of your personal data. These include:

- the right to request access to your personal data;
- the right to request rectification of any personal data that we hold;
- subject to certain conditions:
 - the right to request erasure of your personal data;
 - the right to request restriction of processing of your personal data;
 - the right to have your personal data transferred to another controller;
- where we rely on your consent for processing, the right to withdraw such consent; and
- the right to lodge a complaint with a data protection authority (in the UK, this is the Information Commissioner's Officer (ICO)). A list of other authorities can be found via this link: http://ec.europa.eu/newsroom/article29/item-detail.cfm?item_id=612080

Should you wish to exercise your rights, you can send your request to the Spectris Group Privacy Counsel via data.protection@spectris.com. Note that for us to respond to your request, we may require you to verify your identity.

Please be aware that some (or all) of these rights may not be available to you in your jurisdiction. Furthermore, we may reject requests that are unreasonably repetitive, require disproportionate technical effort (for example, developing a new system or fundamentally changing an existing practice), risk the privacy of others, or would be extremely impractical (for instance, requests concerning information residing on backup systems).
